SPECIAL SERVICE CONTACTS

Reference is made to SAC Letter #74 dated 10/16/50, Special Service Contacts.

The Boston Division has the following Special Service Contacts:

SSC Bos 2 -- JOSEPH P. KENNEDY SSC Bos 2 --

The writer has met both Mr. KENNEDY and and has attempted to meet on several occasions. It is expected a contact will be made with in the future.

No particular assignments have been given to any of the Special Service contacts. However, the writer is aware of the fact that Mr. Kennedy recently spoke with about his articles concerning Civil Rights cases in which he criticized the Bureau, After which he telephonically spoke to Mr. Hoover.

MR. KENNEDY, of course, is extremely well connected in all fields of life and has expressed himself as being ready, willing and able to do anything he possibly can to help the Bureau. Should the Bureau have any problems in any field, domestic or international, it is felt Mr. Kennedy would not only be happy to serve the Bureau, but because of his widespread connections would be well able to do so.

SPECIAL SERVICE CONFACT

with Mr. JOSEPH P. During a recent contact by SA' KENNEDY, Mr. KENNEDY made reference to your testimony before the Subcommittee to investigate the administration of the Internal Security Act and other Internal Security Laws on November 17th last.

Although politically a democrat, Mr. KENNEDY stated that he disagreed and others who reportedly expressed the fear that your testimony might establish a dangerous precedent. He asserted that under the circumstances your action in testifying was so extremely well done it had a great beneficial effect upon that issue as well as the stature of the Bureau.

Recently, Mr. KENNEDY has been studying the operations and expenditures of the Department of Defense in connection with his duties as a member of the commission headed by former President HERBERT HOOVER, and he has been shocked at the serious waste and mismanagement of funds. He stated Ithat the deeper he delves into the matter, the more he appreciates your work as Director and the Bureau's accomplishments; for, by comparison, The Bureau is one of the few federal organizations that is operated lefficiently, said Mr. KENNEDY.

I thought you would like to have these comments from one who has been a long time friend of the Bureau.

Dear Joe:

Your recent remarks to Special Agent have been brought to my attention, and I want to thank you for commenting so generously about my administration of the FBI and my appearance before the Jenner Committee.

The continuing support of such thoughtful friends as you has always been a great source of encouragement for my associates and me. I am sure I do not have to tell you how pleased I was to learn of your opinion of my testimony.

May I take this opportunity to wish you an abundance of happiness and good health during 1954.

RE: HONORABLE JOSEPH P. KENNEDY

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On July 1 I had the occasion to spend some time with Mr. Kennedy.

I had met many many people who are great admirers of yours, but I believe that Mr. Kennedy is the most vocal and forceful admirer that I have met. I found him to be a forceful, outspoken gentleman who takes great pride in his friendship with you.

As of possible interest, he mentioned that President Eisenhower had requested the Hoover Commission to investigate CIA. Mr. Kennedy advised that General Mark Clark would probably head up their investigative efforts. He also indicated he was leaving for Europe in just a little over a week and left the inference he expects to do some inquiring concerning CIA while he is abroad. He also advised it was his personal thought that President Eisenhower had asked the Hoover Commission to make this inquiry to forestall an investigation into CIA by Senator McCarthy.

In closing, I would like to mention that Mr. Kennedy expressed a personal liking and admiration for Special Agent Resident Agent at Hyannis, Massachusetts.

It is apparent that contacts with Mr. Kennedy have been such as to merit Mr. Kennedy spood will.

UNITED ST TES GOVERNMENT DATE: February 26. MR. L. V. BOARDMAN 1119 6.19, 1955 FROM MR. A. H. BELL JOSEPH PATRICK KENNEDY SUBJECT: Tele. From SPECIAL INQUIRY - WHITE HOUSE

On 2-25-55 Miss Phyllis Gardner of the White House requested a name check concerning Joseph Patrick Kennedy, former U.S. Ambassador to Great Eritain, who is being considered for appointment to the President's Commission on Veterans Pensions. Bufiles reflect no complete investigation has been conducted concerning Kennedy; however, in May, 1951, Bureau concucted limited inquiry requested by Department concerning allegation that Kennedy, then owner of Merchandise Mart Building in Chicago, Illinois, gave $100,000 for removal of Government offices from building. The complainant claimed allegation was received by him from a friend, who when contacted by Bureau denied furnishing same. As no specific facts were developed, inquiry was closed on 6-7-51 at request of Department. Due to vaguaness of allegation and lack of facts developed, this information is not being furnished to Mile House. (58-2402)

Bufiles reflect that according to 6-1-39 issue of "Foreign Observer" published in New York City, Kennedy, then Ambassador to Great Britain, was making statements to members of British Government regarding appeasement of Axis powers, which statements were allegedly confusing the British Government and questioned his ability to remain as Ambassador. This information being furnished to White House in attached letter. (94-3-4-763)

The following information not being furnished to White House cue to vagueness of allegations and/or nature of the sources: In January, 1942, Bureau was advised that Inga Arvad, subject of Internal Security and Espionage - G investigation, had been carrying on an affair with John F. Kennedy (son of the Ambassador), -then an Ensign in the U.S. Havy. During above investigation it was determined that in-February, -1942, Arvad had spent several weekends with John Kennedy in a hotel room in Charleston, South Carolina. Investigation regarding Arvad-was closed in 1945 as no subversive or espionage activities were determined. John F. Kennedy is presently a Senator from Massachusetts. (65-39058) In April, 1942, a presently a Senator from Massachusetts. (65-39058) In April, 1942, a source of unknown reliability furnished information indicating that James. Roosevelt, prior to the repeal of prohibition, had secured U.S. liquor rights from England on basis his father was President. Due to pressure from U.S. liquor interests, James Roosevelt allegedly transferred these contacts to Kennedy who was purportedly appointed Ambassador to England so he could handle these contacts (100-99500). Ton 7-9-53 State Department furnished a surmary concerning reflecting that on 10-13-39, William Bullitt, former U.S. Ambassador in Paris, stated that when Kennedy was Ambassador in London, Kennedy called the second every day, sometimes four times daily, to seek advice on important issues, which advice Kennedy followed. Kennedy allegedly made large financial offers to to obtain his full-time services (65-32871-184). In October, 1953, the Antitrust _Division of the Department requested Bureau to conduct investigation concerning the importation and distribution of Scotch whiskey in the U.S., stating allegations were received implying that U.S. Ambassador to England possibly designates these agencies in U.S. and that members of Roosevelt family had sought these agencies and/or possibly owned interests in Somerset Company, Inc., Scotch whiskey importers, formerly owned by Joseph P. Kennedy. Extensive investigation, concluded in April, 1954, failed to develop any information substantiating allegations or revealing possible antitrust violations. Investigation revealed Kennedy family had owned Somerset Company, Inc., but that Joseph P. Kennedy was never an officer of the company and owned about 2% of its stock (60-4434-1,9,38). Kennedy was Special Service Contact of Boston Office, September, 1943, to September, 1954, and is now an SAC contact of that office. Kennedy has on numerous occasions expressed great admiration for the Director and the work of the Eureau (94-37808).

DETAILS:

Backeround:

Joseph P. Jennedy, outstanding financier and industriclist, was born September 6, 1833; received an A.B. degree from Harvard in 1912. At the age of 25 he was the youngest bank president in the United States. Kennedy quit banking in 1917 and subsequently worked with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, spent a number of years producing motion pictures and for several years speculated extensively in the stock market. In 1934 Kennedy was appointed head of the Securities and Exchange Commission but resigned from that position in 1935. He was Ambassador to England from 1937 to 1940. In 1954 Kennedy served on the Hoover Commission which made a survey of various Government bureaus together with recommendations for reorganization. In February, 1955, the White House requested a name check concerning Kennedy, stating that he was being considered for appointment to the President's Commission on Veterons Pensions.

: Miscellaneous Information in Bureau Files:

Bufiles reflect no complete investigation concerning Kennedy; however, in Eay, 1951, a limited inquiry was requested by the Department of Justice concerning an allegation that Kennedy, then owner of Yerchandise Yart Building in Chicago, Illinois, gave $100,000 for removal of Government offices from the building. The complainant claimed that the allegation was received by him from a friend, who when contacted by the Bureau, denied furnishing the allegation. The inquiry was closed on 6-7-51 at the request of the Department since no specific facts were developed. (58-2402)

The June 1, 1939, issue of "Foreign Observer," which quoted remarks from the privately circulated and well-informed publication "keek" of London, stated that the British were bewildered as to why Kennedy was allowed to remain as Ambassador considering his record as an appearer and apologist for Chamberlain. (94-5-4-763)

In April, 1942, a source of unknown reliability advised that James Roosevelt traveled to England just prior to the repeal of prohibition and secured exclusive U.S. liquor rights from the company which controlled almost the entire Scotch whiskey output in England. Due to pressure from U.S. liquor interests, James Roosevelt allegedly transferred these contacts to Kennedy who was reportedly appointed Ambassador to England so he could handle the contacts. It was further alleged that Senator Kye had been advised of the above but was reluctant to act on the information since its disclosure would likely have created disunity while the Ration was at war. In October, 1953, the Antitrust Division of the Department requested the Bureau to conduct investigation concerning the importation and distribution of Scotch whiskey in the United States, stating that allegations had been received implying that the United States Ambassacor to England probably designated the agencies in the United States. It was further alleged that members of the Roosevelt family possibly owned interests in the Somerset Company, Inc., Scotch whiskey importers, formerly owned by Joseph P. Kennedy. Extensive investigation which was concluded in April, 1954, failed to develop any information substantiating allegations or revealing possible antitrust violation. Investigation revealed the Fennedy family had owned Somerset Company, Inc., but that Joseph P. Fennedy had never been an officer of the company and owned about 2% of its stock. (100-99500; 60-4434-1-9,38)

On July 9, 1953, the State Department furnished a summary concerning reflecting that on October 13, 1939, Villiam Bullitt, former United States Ambassador in Paris, stated that when Kennedy was Ambassador in London, Kennedy called every day and sometimes four times a day to ask advice on important issues, which advice Kennedy followed. Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy is desirous of having lunch with the Director on either Tuesday or Wednesday, if possible, and if this is not possible would like to have a chance to talk with the Director sometime while he is in Washington.

It will be recalled that you talked with Mr. Joseph & Kennedy, Sr. by telephone on January 27, 1956, concerning his desire to see you when he returns to Washington.

I told Mr. Kennedy I did not know your plans but would communicate his message to you and I would call him on Extension 1247 at the Capitol as to whether you would be able to see his father.

MEMORANDUM FOR

MR. TOLSON
MR. BOARDMAN
MR. BELMONT
MR. NICHOLS

Yesterday, I saw the former American Ambassador to Great Britain, Mr. Joseph P. Konnedy, Sr., who has recently been named as a member of the President's Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities.

Mr. Konnedy stated that he wished to just discuss with me generally the over-all picture concerning this matter and some of the ideas which he had in mind. He stated he found at the first meeting hold of this Board that there had been no definite program or plan set up as to how the Board would function. The Board has practically no staff and Mr. Kennedy said he, therefore, felt that the thing to do was to find out from CIA and the other agencies engaged in foreign intelligence activities what some of their problems were and then have these problems assigned to individual members of the Board to study and come up with recommendations for a solution. He stated he had indicated at the first meeting that if the Board intended to do a thorough and complete job, all the Board members should take apartments in Washington and move here for a fulltime job until it was completed. This did not meet with the approval of the other members. Mr. Kennedy stated, therefore, during the last several days he has had conformnces with CIA and has taken over the analysis of one problem, namely, that of duplication of coverage abroad by the Military, CIA and the State Department. He believes he has not only obtained the necessary facts, but has a solution for the same which he intends to explore during his present visit in Washington with representatives of the three agencies mentioned. Mr. Kennedy stated that this was the only procedure he believed could be followed if there was not going to be full time given by the Commission as a whole over a period of some menths.

The former U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, Honorable Joseph P. Kennedy, has long been interested in the welfare of the young people of this Nation. Recently, funds were made available from the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., Foundation to erect a skating rink and lounge in Hyannis, Massachusetts, as a memorial to Mr. Kennedy's son who was killed in World War II. Through a citizens' committee, consideration was given to various projects which would best suit the needs of the youth of Cape Cod, where Mr. Kennedy has a summer residence. The rink and lounge was decided upon inasmuch as it was the most practical and popular choice. It can be converted during the summer months for square dancing, tennis and other activities.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Special Agent Resident Agent at Hyannis, Massachusetts, talked with Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy at his home at Hyannisport, Massachusetts over the past week-end. Mr. Kennedy told Agent that he had just returned from France where he had been vacationing at his Riviera home. He anticipates being in this general area until some time in December, when he plans to go to his Palm Beach, Florida home for the winter months.

Mr. Kennedy told Special Agen he had received many favorable comments regarding the willingness of his son, Senator John F. Kennedy, to compromise his own labor bill in favor of labor legislation which he knew would be acceptable to the other members of the Senate. Mr. Kennedy indicated that the comments coming to his attention expressed the opinion that the Senator had proved his "bigness" by exhibiting a willingness to support a bill other than his own, which will do something to control lilabor abuses.

I thought you would be interested in these comments of Mr. Kennedy.

Insiders Tell Ike, Jack Admiration

PALM SPRINGS—Former President Eisenhower was pleased with the news that President Kennedy had recommended the restoration of his rank a five star general.

I was sitting next to Eisenhower's pal, George E. Allen in the Palm Springs ball park and Ike was sitting next to George. I told Allen I suspected Eisenhower was "fond of President Kennedy."

"You're right," said Allen. "He thinks Kennedy's a great guy—but wait a minute! Maybe I might be pulling a Senator Mundt!"

Later on I dropped by to visit former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy at the Marion Davies home near Tamarisk Country Club. I told Kennedy what Allen had said about Eisenhower's feeling towards his son.

Kennedy grinned broadly.

"I really believe Eisenhower thinks a lot of Jack," he said. "I know one thing for sure. Jack thinks a lot of him, and always has."

The 72 year-old Kennedy had played 18 holes of golf with Tony Curtis across the street at Tamarisk. He later went to the mineral baths in Palm Springs.

Now he was back home and relaxing in a sports shirt and Bermuda shorts. This is a 72-year-old who doesn't look his age. He's pretty much a fast moving race horse of a man.

I told him I had read Dave Sentner's story which spiked growing rumors that President Kennedy, and his Attorney General brother, Robert, had a rift with J. Edgar Hoover.

Los Angeles Examiner Los Angeles, California March 3, 1961 Editor: Warden Woolard Los Angeles Division

T'don't know where those ridiculous rumors start," said this illustrious father of illustrious sons. "Nothing could be further from the truth.

"Both Jack and Bob admire Hoover," he said. "They feel they're lucky to have him as head of the FBI. Hoover is a wonderful, dedicated man, and don't think Jack and Bob don't realize it. They've always admired him."

Although Kennedy has spent much time in Holly-wood in the past, when he was connected with the motion picture industry, this was his first visit to the Palm Springs area.

Now that his son is in the White House it is getting so Kennedy doesn't have much privacy anymore. Comparatively lew people ever heard of Hyannisport until Jack put it on the map. The Kennedys have homes there which once had privacy. But now when the President goes back there Hyannisport is over run with newspapermen and visitors.

It is the same way with the Kennedy home in Palm Beach. So the elder Kennedy came over here to get away from it all, play golf and rest up for a couple of weeks. Police were guarding the home the first day, which didn't make too much sense because the home is difficult to Kennedy thinks the desert is great. His only conpolaint was that it took him and Curtis four hours to grain 18 holes at crowded Tamarisk.

As Pegler Sees It:

The Strange Case Of Tyler Kent

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

BRITISH LAW and the vaunted British justice were nullified in 1940 for the benefit of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill so that Tyler Kent, a patriotic clerk in the American Embassy, could be sent to prison and thus muzzled for seven years. By the time he got out Roosevelt was dead and a conspiracy of silence by the "court historians" in both countries had set in. It is still in force.

Kent was tried in the Central Criminal Court in Old Bailey in October, 1940.

Admittedly he pilfered Embassy documents of no money value all of which had been returned except some which were in his squalid living quarters when a raid occurred. He insisted that he had a patriotic duty to communicate information out of these documents to members of the U.S. Congress and thus, to warn the American people that Roosevelt and Churchill were carrying on secret correspondence...

Ambassador Joseph Kennedy had quit the job; by the time Kent went to trial. He had professed to oppose our embroilment in war and the crooked schemes called Lend-Lease. For a long time Kennedy got credit for moral courage in quitting in protest against Lend-Lease. But it is not clear that this was why he quit. And he certainly threw Kent to the wolves in circumstances which muzzled the only one who tried to alarm public opinion at home.

Although Kent was entitled to diplomatic immunity, Kennedy disowned him and the British court and the British equivalent of our Department of Justice gave him the works in a trial more secret than open. The text of the messages between Roosevelt and Churchill never was entered on the court record. There were 500 of these in the Kent case, but Churchill admits that there were more than 3,000.

Most of them-written prior to May, 1940-were an outrageous violation of law and protocol between nations because Churchill was not the head of the British Government at the time. Thus Roosevelt was really undermining the official British Government to make a stealthy deal looking to the day when Churchill would become Prime Minister.

Married and Vanished

After the second war, Kent came home, married a wealthy woman and vanished. Kennedy then tried to discourage discussion of the Kent case and his own negative part in it by insinuating that there was something-"wrong" with Kent's morals. But Kent was never so charged and thus had no chance to face all necesser and vindicate himself.

By a strange windfall the Yale University library acquired a transcript of the trial record. However, it is incomplete because the Embassy refused to produce hundreds of documents which might have helped Kent to establish the patriotic purity of his motive. The British court embraced technicalities which nullified, but only for this particular instance, the ancient immunity of Ambassadors and all Embassy staff from prosecution. But the same court refused to apply the same innovation to the documents which Kent asked for. They were inviolate.

The son of a minor American diplomat, Kent had lived most of his years abroad and had been in Moscow until he was transferred to London. He then tried to get another transfer to Berlin, but prosecution made little out of that except probably to infuriate the jurors against Kent.

Kent had met a young woman, Anna Wolkoff, the daughter of an Imperial Russian admiral. Possibly she sought him out. She and her father were naturalized English citizens, but Anna hated Communists and joined the British Fascist movement and introduced Kent to some of its members. It appeared that she did communicate with Lord Haw-Haw, the American from Brooklyn, whose mocking broadcasts from Berlin infuriated the British so badly that they hanged him in London after the war notwithstanding his American citizenship. But Kert did not communicate with Haw-Haw and moreover the United States was neutral throughout his activities in London.

As the trial ended Kent complained that the court had not allowed him to put in a letter from the Crown admitting that the prosecution did not intend to claim that he had any part in Miss Wol-Koff's communications with Germany. The justice then let him read a copy of such a letter and read it himself. But this was after the verdict and it was not read to the jury.

And it was conceded that none of the documents gave military or naval information which would have been useful to Germany.

Joe Kennedy's variable attitude toward Roosevelt and his war remains a mystery. He openly professed to loathe Roosevelt after his Embassy hitch. But his treatment of Tyler Kent drew a permanent iron curtain across a conspiracy to involve the United States in a war which was none of our business—as Kennedy often said at that time.

In an effort to improve the physical condition of former Ambassador Kennedy, the family has been utilizing facilities of the Rehabilitation Center at Philadelphia. Because of the experimental nature of this treatment the Kennedy family has not acknowledged this publicly. It appears, however, that someone connected with the Rehabilitation Center has talked with the press as a short article appeared in the "Philadelphia Inquirer" to the effect that Ambassador Kennedy was being treated by the Rehabilitation Center.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Just in case you have not heard the following story, I have decided that you should be informed about it so that if it contains any truth you may (while yet you are in control of the F. B. I.) take proper action to counteract the evil influence of the people involved whose connections very probably reach deeply into the U. S. State Department and the highly secret C. I. A. Organization. I believe that you and your organization yet represent the grass roots integrity of the American Way of Life and sensibly conservative Democratic Form of Government both of which appear to be fast vanishing from the contemporary scene.

The rumor is circulating to the effect that for the political assistance given by Joseph Kennedy to the successful Presidential Campaign of Franklin D. Receivedt that Joseph Kennedy was rewarded by the important political appointment as U. S. Ambassador to the Court of St. James, London, England, just prior to W. W. H. Being Irish & hating the British, Kennedy made himself so conoxious & unwelcome in England by advocating that the U.S.A. permit Germany to conquer England that Churchill demanded that Roosevelt recall Kennedy & replace him with another more friendly U.S. Ambassador to England. However, before this was done it is said that Scotland Yard Detectives, who kept Kennedy under close surveillance, proved quite conclusively that at that time Joseph Kennedy was associated with the International Communist Party. This news item is said to have been printed in England shortly after John Kennedy's murder, but this news item was for unknown reasons immediately squashed & never crossed the Atlantic.

Now, if there be any truth in this story, perhaps this account contains the answer to the riddle of the 2 Kennedy murders - plus answers to a great many other relevant questions regarding the fiasco of the Cuban Bay of Pigs when Kennedy reportedly withdrew all U.S. effective air support from the Bay of Pigs Invasion at just the critical moment. Could Kennedy & Kurschev have secretly planned this fiasco, at the same time pretending to fight & threaten each other in order to fool the American people?? Did Robert Kennedy really have a Rare Love for the lower classes of the nation or did he & his brother actually entertain ulterior motives in their bid for political control of the United States Government? I he leve if anyone is capable of sorting out the truth of this mess that you & your men can do it before it is too late.

Sincerely, 94-37808

New York 31, N.Y. August 26, 1961

Dear Mr. Kennedy:

I have no desire to harm an Irishman, and certainly not a Kennedy, or to work against the U.S.A., which I love so dearly. But, I do not intend to have my identity taken from me, nor my life, my freedom, or my money I'm entitled to.

Knowing how persons with immense power are frequently forced to hire others, blank check style, to get important jobs done, I do not hold what happened to me, against you. I am quite ruthless, myself. However, I won't stand still for the perpetuation of the error, by those inimical to us both.

From the beginning, I would have been on your team, and I have every reason to believe it would have been your desire, also, if you had not been denied the truth.

First, I am one of America's "best known and beloved women," highly respectable, of high status locally, and internationally, even without money, and in brown skin.

I have more power than you, even now, although penniless, jobless, and living on the charity of friends and relatives, with D.C. claiming "a question of my identity and citizenship." And, even after fraudulent imprisonment by some communist controlled lower echelon, far removed and unknown to you.

It pains me to see JFK suffer and stand helplessly by, while our way of life is eroded away, when he is so talented, full of heart, and patriotism. I was born and reared as English and Irish, and understand his feelings quite well. But, I will sacrifice him, you, the whole Kennedy clan, and levery man, woman and child on U.S. soil, before I'll give an inch in exercising my Divine rights. You should not wish it otherwise, coming from the same European roots as I.

I am not a Negro, I am just brown. They hate me and have tried to kill me all my life. But, I am better able to use them against you, than you are, against me.

Before writing this letter, I have laid the necessary groundwork to battle you or to join you, whichever you choose. I would prefer to join you, but not in sacrifcing myself, my person, my freedom, my identity, or any money or entitlements accrueing to me by birth. Since you like power, I'd suggest you join forces with me, and throw the weight of the Kennedy name behind me, not against me. I, as Kaiserine to all Germans, and descendant of Catherine the Great to all Russians, with entire underworld and law enforcement cooperation and protection, Queen Elizabeth just becomes a mere Scottish lass and the British throne a decayed item that should have been destroyed like the British Empire, long ago.

As Umberto will tell you, the House of Savoy considers it (the British throne) negligible, as does Catherine of Aragon's heirs, such as I.

I ask nothing but the right to earn my own living, in freedom, and to direct and control my own life and affairs, myself. Otherwise, you have my entire cooperation & loyalty. Please have JFK open the doors to the Iron Curtain I've been placed behind, along with Freedom fighters from all over the world, who love and fight for and with me.

As Pegler Sees It:

PEGLER

Kennedy Clan's Elder Statesman

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

THE ELDER STATESMAN of the United States and the only real advisor of the reigning President is his father, Joseph Patrick Kennedy. No other confidential friend or namedropper since the synthetic office of advisor to presidents was publicized into artificial authority by press agents and gullible journalists has ever had as much authority, nor Joe Kennedy's shrewd and patriotic intelligence.

It would be a kindness to Barney Baruch just to refrain from appraising his wisdom and his authority with Wilson, Roosevelt and, until the explosion, Truman.

Harry Hopkins was only shoulder-high to F. D. Roosevelt at best.

E. M. House, the soap-wrapper colonel from Texas, undoubtedly did hypnotize Woodrow Wilson, but he overplayed his hand and anyway he was just a cheap adventurer who flagrantly double-crossed and mocked Wilson among the English aristocracy and wound up as nothing. True, Frank Roosevelt did pay him homage in a pilgrimage to his home at Magnolia, Mass., after Roosevelt's first nomination, but the little that we have credibly learned about that meeting amounts to no substantial historical importance.

Joe Kennedy bore a partisan loyalty toward Franklin D. Roosevelt, but, frankly, despised him as all Boston Irish of that generation who pioneered for Irishness at Harvard despised most of the aristocracy. There is no doubt that, for whatever value the status may have, Roosevelt was an aristocrat. His wife was, and is, too, and this quality made it impossible for either of them ever to understand respectable, upstanding Americans of whatever color or to refrain from trying to patronize us. We were always "the little people" to those Roosevelts.

Successful On His Merits

Joe Kennedy had to walk alone in his early days at Harvard when the term "no Irish need apply" was still an echo if not an actual phrase in the advertisements for hired help in New England and New York. He was so good-looking in his fifties when I began to know him that I believe he must have been a very devil in Harvard. Kennedys were not welcome at Harvard then, but Joe was so successful on his merits that he could take pity on Arthur J. Goldsmith and introduce him and underwrite him to a quite surprising success among the upper orders of the time.

Goldsmith later became the kapok dragon of the Waldorf Tower, with a sinister apparatus of letter-head political fronts which bulldozed candidates in the outback and elected or defeated senatorial candidates by the clever use of a few thousand New York dollars in West Virginia, Montana, and Vermont.

The story of the organized determination of the whole Kennedy tribe to elect first, Joe Jr., and after his death, Jack, to the presidency is a myth. Like many families these Kennedys had a fearsome reputation as kids in Bronxville as a wild, noisy gang. The boys fought the girls and the girls fought back. They screamed and squalled and threw things. Whoever got to the bathroom first in the morning had to defend it, and whoever wanted a certain tie or pair of socks had to prevail by conquest.

But Jack can telephone Joe for the last word on politics and economics and whatever his enemies may say of Joe they can't say he has anything against riches or capitalism or in favor of Moscow or the intellectuals of the British Foreign Office who often turn up in the lee of the Kremlin.

Schlesinger? Murrow? Bowles? Galbraith? Keynes?

They will not prevail while the elder statesman, the old man of the clan, is as close as the phone at Jack's elbow.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

When you finish with the Valachi Trial, maybe you can have another national television show entitled, "How Joseph Kennedy Sr. made $400,000,000.00 honestly"

Had the Cosa Nostra thugs been properly schooled, they too could have been "legitimate" crooks. (Like your Wall Street gangsters)

History will, I'm sure, describe this decapent Nation of whore (Lizzy) and money-worshippers as a Nation of thieves and phoney baloneys (hypocrites).

Communism deserves to be feared. As you've said repeatedly. Its seeds have been extremely well planted & await blossoming & fruition.

Wilmington, Delaware, was contacted by Special Agent on May 1, 1964. She advised that she was a Protestant and a Republican and did not want to make any personal impression on the Kennedys, but admired them as a family interested in each other's welfare.

She stated she wanted to give Mr. Kennedy or a member of the Kennedy family some information for his personal use and consideration. She sent the Attorney General a card, feeling he would be the easiest one in the family to reach.

She advised that a few weeks ago she read in the newspaper that former Ambassador Kennedy had entered a rehabilitation center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She knows this rehabilitation center to be located at 8801 Stanton Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She feels that the Kennedy family should consider taking Mr. Kennedy out of this rehabilitation center. To clarify this, stated she has a friend,

Radnor, Pennsylvania.

operated on at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in December, 1862, by

said the operation on daughter was unsuccessful and the twelve-year-old child has been crippled since the operation. Several doctors who have treated the child since her operation have observed that the crippling results from the operation could have been avoided.

said that a few months after the operation on the child, was dismissed from the staff of the Children's Hospital. Consequently, she said, she felt that was incompetent and she herself would not want her parent under his care.

said that she was sure would talk to a representative of the Attorney General if he so desired.
